Objection claim that an elector should not be enrolled

When to use this form

You can use this form to notify the Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) of your objection to a person's enrolment if you believe a person whose name appears on an electoral roll is:

- cognitively impaired, or
- not entitled to be enrolled for any of the reasons listed under 'Objection reasons' below.

The authorisation to collect the information on this form is contained in the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918.

Objection reasons

Reasons for making an objection are that you believe the person:

1. is cognitively impaired and incapable of understanding the nature and significance of enrolment and voting
Note: If you are making an objection for this reason the medical certificate below must be completed by a registered medical practitioner.
2. does not live at the address shown on the roll and has not lived at that address for the last month
Note: An objection may not be made for this reason if the person is currently registered with the AEC as an Antarctic elector.
3. is not yet 16 years of age
Note: Persons may enrol when they are 16 but cannot vote until they are 18.
4. is not an Australian citizen, or a British subject who was enrolled on 25 January 1984
5. is enrolled more than once
6. has been convicted of treason or treachery and not pardoned.

Different reasons for objection to enrolment for State or Territory purposes may also apply.

Who can use this form?

To lodge an objection because a person is cognitively impaired and incapable of understanding the nature and significance of enrolment and voting, you must be enrolled but not necessarily in the same division.

To object to a person's enrolment for any other reason, you must be enrolled in the same electoral division as the person named in your objection.

The objection process

When your objection is received we will write to the person you have named notifying them of your objection and stating the reason you have given. The person will be advised of your name and address. The person will be allowed 20 days to provide information to confirm their right to remain enrolled. If they are unable to do so, or if they do not respond within 20 days, their name will be removed from the electoral roll.

If your objection is considered to be frivolous or vexatious it will be dismissed without giving notice to the person you have named.

Lodging your objection

When you have completed this form lodge it with the Divisional Returning Officer for the division for which the person named in your objection is enrolled. You can check the name of your division at www.aec.gov.au/electorate

You must pay a deposit of $2.00 for each objection, unless the reason for your objection is that the person is cognitively impaired in which case no deposit is required.

If the person named is removed from the electoral roll as a result of your objection the deposit will be refunded.
